

Interiors

Designs that reclaim style

Kasia Maciejowska picks out five pieces of furniture that use low-end materials to fabulous new effect

Simple styling

Use this little milk bottle chandelier in a pared-down kitchen, plain white studio or pop-style, bright room. Venka de Rooij, founder of Dutch by Design, says that the recycled objects in her online shop are selling better than ever.

£59.95
dutchbydesign.com

Hot seat

The High Voltage bar stool enjoyed a former life as an insulating system. The imaginative people at Lassco have reconfigured each insulator so that you can breakfast at your kitchen island in spectacular style.

£535
lassco.co.uk

The green light

Like some luminary creature from the deep sea, this Barbara Hose chandelier makes a bold statement with its winding curves. It comes in a variety of colours.

£912
vosled.com

Issue date : 01 April 2011
Page : 11
Size : 100%

Plastic fantastic

Paola Navone prints her Eu/phoria chairs with shopping bag stripes and laundry bag checks. £276 each eumenes.it

Top tables

Taking old wooden boards once used to make cheese, Freddie Saul crafts beautiful tables with a low-tech look. from £750 retrovius.com selfridges.com

